DETAILED ACTION

This is a non-final Office action. New grounds of rejection under double patenting have been presented.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 3, 4, 25, and 26 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 3 and 4 of copending Application No. 10/850315, herein referred to as Zhou '315. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the claims of Zhou '315 only differ from those of the instant application in stating in using a power supply rather than a power receiver. Other than this substitution, the claims of Zhou '315 are identical to those of the instant application

However, US Patent No. 6,546,268 to Ishikawa et al. teaches an implantable bio-sensor system for measuring at least one parameter, wherein either a power receiver receives power from an external source (col. 8, lines 8-39 of Ishikawa) or a power supply is provided in the bio-sensor system (col. 10, line 58-col. 11, line 28 of Ishikawa). Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention to modify claims 3 and 4 of Zhou '315 to use a power receiver in place of the power supply, since Ishikawa teaches the two modes of supplying power to such a system as being functionally equivalent.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Response to Arguments

On p. 17 of the applicants' arguments filed 12/27/05, the applicants state, "Applicant submits herewith a terminal disclaimer in relation to ZHOU". However, no terminal disclaimer was found in the current application.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 3, 4, 25, and 26 would be allowable if the double patenting rejection were overcome. Claims 25 and 26 incorporate the subject matter previously indicated allowable from claims 3 and 4.

Claims 7-21 and 23 are allowed.
